

English Description

Team: An organized group of people who are symbolized by an iconic character along with a unique graphic artwork. The group is focused on a particular type of physical activity involving competition where their success is represented by successful victories.

Player: A person who is part of an organized group of a particular competitive activity represented by the correlation of a unique number belonging to that person and the organization they are in. This person has a specific role in the organization based on where are placed in the playing field

Statistic: Data gathered from a study of numerical data defining information about a specific person based on their performance. This name of this data can often be summarized into a few letters for simple and condensed label.

Relation Scheme Diagram

